

VMOTO'S NANJING FACTORY RECEIVES CHINA COMPULSORY CERTIFICATION

ANNOUNCEMENT

20 FEBRUARY 2009

Vmoto Limited ("Vmoto" or "the Company") is pleased to announce that the Company's Nanjing manufacturing facility has passed final legislative requirements, paving the way to ramp up toward full-scale production.

Following on from international ISO 9001 certification, Vmoto has now received China Compulsory Certification ("CCC") for the export of vehicles manufactured in China. The Chinese Central Government requires manufacturers to obtain the CCC prior to exporting or selling products covered in the CCC catalogue.

The CCC is the final regulatory approval required by Vmoto to enable the Company to focus on realising maximum production from the Nanjing facility as quickly as possible.

Vmoto's Managing Director, Patrick Davin, is currently in China with the production team finalising the 12 month manufacturing schedule. Mr Davin commented "This is really the end of the government and regulatory hurdles for the Nanjing facility and is a major milestone. Our team in China and around the world should be very proud of what has been achieved in a relatively short period of time. Given the interest we have received, our next hurdle will be meeting demand and delivering our quality built, world class products to the market. It is very promising considering the business we now have on the table."

The first production under the CCC is expected to be shipped in the coming weeks, with capacity increasing month on month.
